

DUMMY LETTERS USED TO PREVENT TREASURY PROBE UNDER PATTISON

Governor Harmon Springs Sensation Before Splendid Audience at Flindlay Friday Evening.

NEW SCANDAL UNCOVERED BY CHIEF EXECUT

Letters Exhibited Which Prove Republican Officials Were in Conspiracy to Loot State Treasury of Vast Sums of Taxpayer's Money

Findlay, Ohio, Oct. 8.—In driving home the fact that there was $200,000 of the state's fund illicitly upon deposits in the vaults of the Cincinnati Trust Company of which George B. Cox is principal owner, when it should have been in the State Treasury or earning interest, Governor Judson Harmon last night uncovered a new scandal in connection with that transaction.

Letters were produced proving a most remarkable conspiracy to deceive the late Governor, John M. Pattison, should he order an investigation of the financial department of the state government. This the deceased Chief Executive fully intended to do, but his fatal illness prevented him from carrying his project into execution.

From these communications, which passed between former State Treasurer Charles C. Green and F. R. Williams, the treasurer of the Cincinnati Trust Company, it was explained by Governor Harmon that it was a "dummy" correspondence, manufactured to cover up a crime.

Governor Harmon came back in vigorous fashion at the strictures laid upon his appointees by Warren G. Harding, who has accused him of appointing grafters to office. The strong point he made in the defense of Fire Marshal Zuber, State Work-shop Inspector Kearns, and State Labor Statistician Wirmel, that they were confirmed by a Republican Senate after the decision of Attorney-General Denman, holding that they were not entitled to certain traveling expenses, and that, moreover, they had simply followed a long-established custom, based upon the ruling made by a Republican predecessor of Denman's John M. Sheets.

Upon notification of the change in practice, they returned to the State Treasury the paltry sums which they had received.

As for willful graft, these officials, asserted the Governor, were no more guilty of it than was Mr. Harding in making the overcharges for public printing, for which he is now being sued at the instance of the State Bureau of Accounting.

In other words, if they are grafters, so is Mr. Harding.

The Governor read two letters of January, 1905, in which State Treasurer McKinnon requested the return of the $200,000 in order that it might be counted at the quarterly settlement, promising to return it within 48 hours. These letters are now famous over the state, and have been read at every political meeting addressed by the Governor to show the connection between the State Treasury and George B. Cox, whom he holds as sponsor for Harding's candidacy.

"When poor old John Pattison, stricken with mortal illness, feebly climbed the steps of the Capitol in 1906 to be sworn in as Governor, so wholesome was the mere approach of an officer who everybody knew would not wink at a public wrong," said the Governor, "that $200,000 was promptly turned into a state account under the law and began to earn money for the taxpayers instead of for William S. McKinnon."

"But these fellows were afraid that he would go nosing around, and they thought it would be so well to have everything looking nice and straight. What did they do? Why, they concocted the following letters and put them in the files to throw him off the scent. They wanted to make it appear that the sudden transfer was entirely regular, and that the overnight shift had really been approved in 1904."

"we accepted any deposit of funds from your office. Yours truly,
"F. R. WILLIAMS, Treasurer."

"March 5, 1906.
"F. R. Williams, Cashier, the Cincinnati Trust Company, Cincinnati, Ohio:
"Gentlemen: In compliance with your favor of the third inst. I beg to say application for state funds in the sum of $200,000 was made by your company to the Treasurer of State on November 1, 1904. Said application was approved by the Board of Deposit November 14, 1904, composed of W. S. McKinnon, Treasurer of State; W. D. Guilbert, Auditor of State, and Wade H. Ellis, Attorney-General. A deposit with your company was not made at this company until January 5, 1905.
"Trusting the foregoing is the information you desire, I am very truly yours,
"CHARLES C. GREEN, Cashier."

"March 5, 1906.
"C. C. Green, Cashier, State Treasurer's Office, Columbus, Ohio:
"My Dear Mr. Green: I wish to thank you for your letter of the 5th, and to say that my understanding was that we were approved as a depository for state funds more than a year before we made application for any deposit. Yours very truly,
"F. R. WILLIAMS, Treasurer."

"March 7, 1906.
"F. R. Williams, Cashier, Cincinnati, Ohio:
"Dear Sir: With respect to your favor of the 6th inst. I beg to advise have no doubt had a deposit of state funds been acceptable to you on or immediately after November 14, 1904, when you were approved a depository for state funds, Mr. McKinnon would have arranged to have given you such deposit in place of waiting until January 5, 1905, as per my letter of the 5th inst. You were approved a depository for state funds on said date (November 14, 1904), but a deposit was not accepted by your company until the 5th of January of the present year. Yours very truly,
"CHARLES C. GREEN, Cashier."

In his running comment Governor Harmon explained that this last letter was highly amusing. All the time between November 14, 1904, and January 5, 1905, Mr. Cox's bank had $200,000 on private deposit and paid State Treasurer McKinnon 2 per cent for it, which he kept for his own private purse, as the records in the Governor's possession showed.

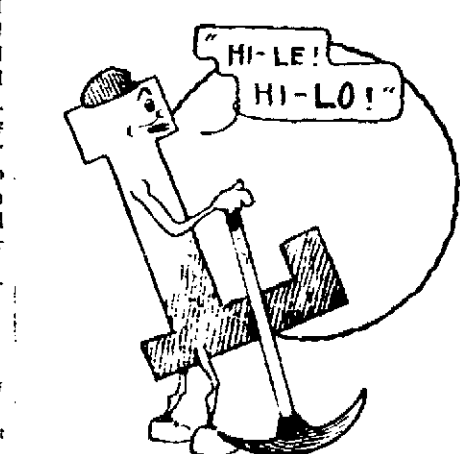

"That's why Mr. Cox's bank did not accept a deposit," remarked the Governor. "It was getting the money cheap."

AEROPLANE BEATS AUTO

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 8.—Arthur Hoxey today won his unique race with Barney Oldfield. Oldfield failed to do six miles with his auto on the track faster than Hoxey did five miles overhead, so Hoxey took the $150 cup offered by a local company. Hoxey made 5 miles in 7 minutes, 53.4 seconds. Oldfield's time for 6 miles was 7 minutes and 46 seconds.

CARS TURN OVER IN AUTO RACE

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—The annual Fairmount Park 200-mile auto race began at noon here today. At the end of five laps the Chadwick, driven by Mitchell, was in the lead. This car turned over on the sixth lap, burying Mitchell and his machine, who were both taken to the hospital, badly hurt. Shortly after the Simplex car turned over, carrying the two occupants. This gave the Benz two occupants. This gave the Benz the lead temporarily.

At the end of the 17th lap, 134 miles, Mulford was ahead in his Lozier, Atken, in a National, second, and Zeigle, in a Chadwick, third.

At Alton, Ill., the three Wright aviators will mount and meet him, staying with him until he descends here.

NOTHING DOING YET IN BIG RACE

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The Chicago New York aeroplane flight which is expected to start today, is still in the air. The aviators agreed that all would start. It is possible however, that all but one will drop out soon after the start. The conditions say that at least three must start, but fail to say anything about how many must continue. Glenn Curtiss has not arrived yet, and his views on the question are at present unknown.

FOREIGN RESIDENTS FLEE.
Guatemala City, Honduras, Oct. 8.—Foreign residents of Honduras are fleeing the country because of renewed persecutions at the hands of local authorities. The U. S. government has been appealed to for protection.

GAS WAR

For Cheaper Rates Was Started Last Evening by Officials of Many Ohio Towns.

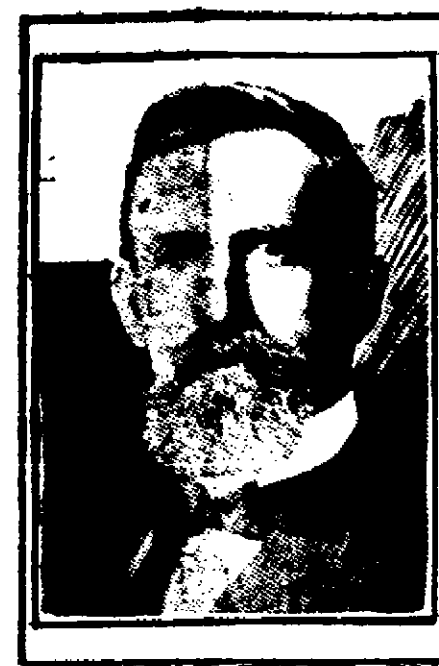

Steubenville, Oct. 8.—A war for 25-cent gas in Ohio Valley towns was begun here last night, when mayors and solicitors from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Toronto, Steubenville, Mingo, Martin's Ferry, Bridgeport and Bellaire perfected an organization. The Tri-State Gas Company recently raised natural gas to 29c a thousand.

The councils of the eight towns will appoint members of a committee which will formulate demands for 25-cent gas to be presented to the company at Pittsburgh Oct. 21. If the company refuses the councils will pass ordinances fixing 25 cents as a maximum gas price. The company says it will shut off the gas rather than cut the price.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The western conference schools held the gridiron spotlight in the central west today. Every "big eight" team will be in action, and the games will serve as elimination contests in the race for the western championship.

Several of the teams, however, will have as opponents colleges outside the conference and the most important game from a championship standpoint will be the Chicago-Indiana contest here.

Chicago is weaker this year than in several seasons and the hoosiers have one of the best chances ever offered them to defeat Sage's men.

The new rules have had a telling effect on Western football all teams having been late in getting down to real work.

New York, Oct. 8.—The best football of the season ought to result from today's big eastern games. None of the "big eight" is booked for a really hard game, but several of the second class games appear to be evenly matched, and "new football" will be given a thorough try-out.

Of the big teams, Harvard will likely make the hardest effort to roll up a big score, in remembrance of last year's close shave with Williams, when the score was 8 to 6.

Princeton has been putting up such a sensational game lately that there is reason to think the Tigers have not a better opponent than New York University.

UNCLE SAM

Will Sell 1,500,000 Acres of Land at Cheap Price in the Near Future.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Uncle Sam has 1,500,000 acres of land in Montana and Utah will be sold at bargain rates, without any restrictions for residence or cultivation. The lands belong to the Indians and the government proposed to sell them in 1905. The Indians are clamoring for their money, but no homesteaders want the lands, because they are too dry and barren. Officials think that even the removal of restrictions will sell very few of the parcels.

Winter, Wis., Oct. 8.—Deputies this morning fired two shots at the cabin of John Dietz. Dietz fired only five in return and is believed to be wounded. An opinion generally accepted here is that the whole Dietz family will have to be killed to get Dietz.

PROCLAIM EXILE OF ROYALTY

New Republic of Portugal Prepares to Resist Attacks of Royallists

FUNDS OF MONASTERIES

Confiscated by New Government and Will be Converted to Public Funds.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—The republic of Portugal today formally proclaimed the exile of King Manuel, the queen mother, the dowager queen and the Duke of Oporto. President Braga says reports from supposed royalist strongholds give him great encouragement. He said, however, that his administration will prepare itself to resist attacks by the royalists. A report that some of the royalists are to be court-martialed and executed has given grounds for a fear that the new government will go too far with punishment.

The wealth found in many monasteries will be confiscated by the new government and converted to the public funds. It was learned today that the Duke of Oporto was captured in the first fighting Tuesday and released on his promise to leave the country.

On account of reports that some of the troops in the provinces have not yet declared their adherence to the republic, the provisional government is exercising the greatest vigilance. Thirty-nine large guns and 10 Maxim guns have been posted in the trenches on the heights of the city and are ready to check any attempted invasion of Lisbon. Up to the present, however, the government has received no advice of uprisings in favor of the monarchy.

The encamped forces of the provisional government have detailed 200 soldiers and armed civilians to do police duty in guarding public and other buildings, especially the banks of the city. All carriages passing through the streets are closely inspected. The wearing or carrying of small republican flags of green and red is considered the open sesame to safe conduct throughout the city.

During the night all shops and restaurants in Lisbon are closed.

The authorities sent a force yesterday to search the convent at Graca and arrest the friars. On arriving there they found the doors barricaded. The soldiers and members of the populace fired several volleys into the building, whereupon the friars returned the attack, their bullets striking the roadway and adjacent buildings. The attackers then withdrew for consultation. Shortly after they returned to the attack, assailing the heavy doors of the convent with battering rams. When the doors yielded the soldiers and people rushed in and searched every nook and corner of the edifice, but not a friar was to be found. It is surmised that they escaped by underground passages.

The cabinet council has convened and discussed at length the weighty questions surrounding the administration of the affairs of the nation. At its conclusion an official note was issued declaring the republic was firmly established.

The provisional government is adopting measures to prevent excesses by the people, and as a result the volunteer guard has arrested five burglars in the abandoned barracks of the municipal guards who were seizing the jewels of the families of officers.

Life in the city is becoming normal. Shops have opened everywhere and the street railway service has been partly restored.

A solemn funeral will be given Admiral Reis, the revolutionary chief who committed suicide, and similar honors will be shown Prof. Bombarda, whose assassination is considered by some to have been the motive for the uprising. The provisional government will defray the expenses of the funerals.

The municipal guard and the police force of the city have been dissolved and new forces will be established.

BLOODY FIGHT IN KENTUCKY

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 8.—News reached here today of a bloody fight at Cannel City, in which Wm. Boston was killed. Bob Day is wounded. The Day brothers were the leaders of one of the factions and the Nichol boys on the other. More than 100 shots were fired. The Nichol boys fled and further trouble is feared.

Shopping at Home

By SETH BROWN

Copyright 1910

THE most clever and progressive women have learned the immense advantage of carefully reading the advertisements.

Those who are more dull of apprehension prefer to wander around in different stores hunting for the special bargains and unusually attractive articles.

The up-to-date woman of today sits down and takes her paper and reads the advertisements carefully before she goes "shopping."

She has learned by experience that the merchant who is up-to-date in his methods and has the most desirable offerings, is the one which makes his influence felt through his advertising.

If he did not do this he would not be an up-to-date merchant.

The back number merchant does not advertise.

Shopping at home, through the ads before you start out, saves time and annoyance and is sure to result in both economy and satisfaction.

It pays to read the advertisements.

Apple Caramel Pudding. Peel, core and slice enough sour apples to measure a pint. Cook them slowly in a saucepan in two tablespoonfuls of butter until soft, then add one cupful of sugar, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of cinnamon and two tablespoonfuls of caramel, and simmer for twenty minutes. Mix together one and a half cupfuls of stale bread crumbs, one-half cupful of crumbled stale macaroons and one half cupful of seedless

Boil together for one minute one cupful of water and one cupful of sugar, take from the fire and add the soaked gelatine and stir until dissolved. Add the juice of one lemon and strain. Add one cupful of cold water and one cupful of any wine preferred, and let it stand until cold. Dip a border mold in cold water, in the bottom arrange a pattern with bits of colored frosts. Pour in a very few spoonfuls of the jelly, being very careful not to disturb the fruit, and let stand until set. Fill up the mold with remainder of the jelly and put in the center with whipped cream, and decorate with a few bits of fresh or candied fruit.

HEART and HOME TALKS by Barbara Boyd

Little Problems of The Home.

The Son on the Eve of Twenty.

"Henry is so hard to manage now," said a mother wearily. "He is just at an age when he thinks he knows everything and has a right to do as he pleases, and it is so difficult to control him."

"How old is he?" asked the listener.

"Just past seventeen."

Many a mother will sympathize with the mother of this boy. From seventeen to twenty boys are indeed difficult propositions. They are having their first taste of the freedom of manhood, and it is apt to go to their head.

In certain styles and how ridiculous such and such a thing appeared on a boy she had seen the other day. She did it casually, as if there was no present application to her remarks, and there was sound sense as well as economy back of what she said. A boy is quick to see through such subtleties if there isn't good sense in it. This boy, in particular, wanted to buy a derby for winter, whereas the mother thought a cap plenty good enough and much less expensive. She poked mild fun at a boy she had seen wearing a derby, which evidently he thought made him look like a man, she said, but which only made him look ridiculous. Then she spoke admiringly of how well some football fellows she had seen looked in caps. It weakened this boy's set resolution to get a derby, and finally he chose a cap.

The parents of a troublesome boy of this age should range themselves on the boy's side. They should try to see things with the boy's eyes. They should go with him in spirit in his pleasures and ambitions just as far as possible. He will then feel that he is a comrade, not an opponent, and will be more likely to listen to them when they do see differently from him. He should feel and know that love, pure and unstinted, is back of all their advice and counsel for him. And all appeals to him to do or not to do should always be made to his reason, judgment and manliness. Recognize his manliness. Put the proposition up to him as a man, rather than command him to do this or that, as if he were still a child. Have good, sound reasons for the course you want him to adopt, remembering also that "the world do move," and that methods have improved some since you were young. Meeting the boy on the eve of twenty on these grounds is likely to induce him to follow your course, instead of going wilfully on his own inexperienced way.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeits are so good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

REASONS WHY THE REP. BOSSES WANT THE LEGISLATURE

The decaying Republican party is sadly in need of carrying the next Legislature.

The party needs it greatly in the first place for the purpose of re-electing Charles Dick and keeping him in the United States senate. The party bossism must be retained in power.

A matter of equal if not greater importance is the re-districting of the state under the new census. By the gerrymandering methods of the Republican machine managers, that party has been kept in power for years, and the Democratic party has suffered great disadvantages and injustice.

Republicans can re-district the state for congressmen, as they have in the past for years, so that the Democratic party will be deprived of the right of fair representation.

These are reasons why the Republican party bosses are raising side issues, that are not issues at all, for the purpose of side-tracking the real issues and again capturing the coming legislature for purely political objects and purposes.

Democrats, be not deceived.

QUITE A DIFFERENCE.

According to Mr. Harding, Attorney General Denman, and those who defended state house grafters in the campaign two years ago, graft is something which Republican officials charge against Democratic officials who pay back the disputed amounts without being sued.

But when the state loses $150,000 or more through the service of Republican officials who say "its none of your business," or "you can have the money back again Monday," or who refuse to pay back whether sued or not, Mr. Harding and Mr. Denman would probably prefer that it be ignored altogether and all the noise made about the trumped up charges made against Democrats for campaign purposes. See the difference?

HOW MAYOR HAAS WAS VINDICATED

In his speech before the Democratic Club Friday night, Mayor Haas, of Delaware, one of the Democratic candidates for Senator, proved to his audience the sterling stuff he is made of and what a valuable man he will prove to be as a member of the upper branch of the Legislature. Referring to an assault that had been made upon him in an article published in the Newark American-Tribune signed by some bitter opponents in the town of Delaware, the Mayor showed that the allegations made in the article as to his conduct in the Mayor's office were the issues raised against him in the municipal campaign of last fall, and that on the issues thus raised by his opponents he was re-elected by a majority of 45. The voters of Delaware, the Mayor said, were the jury, and notwithstanding the fact that the city has some 400 Republican majority, the honest, unbiased voters gave him this overwhelming vindication. How could a more potent, clean cut reason be offered for the election of Mayor Haas?

NO OTHER WAY.

The latest political joke is that the stand-pat platform written by Dick, adopted by the Columbus convention and accepted by Harding is not a stand-pat platform at all, because it is just like the platform adopted by the New York Republican convention. If that be true why did the Cleveland Leader, Ohio State Journal and other Republican papers denounce the Ohio platform and rebuke its author? But that is the way it goes in politics. The New York convention stood by Roosevelt but rammed a stand-pat platform down the throats of the delegates. If you don't believe it you ought to read the editorials in the progressive Republican papers of Iowa and other western states.

It will ever be so with "insurgents" who hope for reform but still wear the g. o. p. yoke. There is only one way to insure, and that is to come over into the Democratic party where you belong and where you can do some good.

That is what the Republicans of Maine did this year. And that is what the Republican voters of Ohio must do this year if they do not want to be deceived by the blandishments of those who prate loud before elections about progressiveness but who stand-pat on election day by voting the stand-pat ticket.

"FOREMOST MEN OF OHIO"

Are you so "easy" as to believe that the g. o. p. bosses are really trying to shake off Dick?

You would be very "easy" to believe such a thing while Dick and Harding are going about the state of Ohio together making campaign speeches. Dick, Harding, Denman and Nick Longworth were billed together for a campaign meeting at Portsmouth, Saturday, October 8.

The following lines are quoted from the big posters that were plastered on all the billboards at Portsmouth:

"Coming Here"

"The Foremost Men of Ohio"

"Such Distinguished Statesmen Have Never Before Met in Scioto County"

Warren G. Harding, Next Governor of Ohio. Senator Charles Dick Attorney General Denman, and Congressman Nicholas Longworth.

What do you say to that? Dick, Harding, Nick Longworth and Denman, all bunched together as "the foremost men of Ohio." It is still true that birds of a feather flock together.

GO TO IT, MR. DENMAN.

Two years ago the State Republican convention effusively endorsed the administration of Governor Harris and emphatically declared that everything was O. K. at the state house. All the offices were occupied then by Republicans identified with the state g. o. p. bosses.

Governor Harris said in his campaign speech at Youngstown that he knew from personal and official contact that the state officers were both competent and honest. All the machine serving Republican newspapers and all the candidates on the state ticket with Governor Harris including Attorney General Denman, repeated that assertion over and over again during the campaign.

What, then, do Denman and Harding and the same machine serving g.

ROUSING MEETING OF THE DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Addresses by Hon. L. B. Houck, of Mt. Vernon, A. A. Rector, of This City, Candidates for State Senator Haas and Miller, and Others---The Speeches Created Great Enthusiasm.

The Licking Democratic Club held another of its successful meetings last night. The rooms were crowded and standing room was at a premium. The meeting was called to order by President G. W. Horton, with Secretary Roderie Jones at his post. Twelve applications for membership were made and the applicants admitted to club membership.

Then J. H. Newton offered a resolution of condolence and sympathy over the loss of one of the club's brilliant members, in Judge E. M. P. Brister, and Roderie Jones offered resolutions on the death of Wm. P. Young.

After some introductory remarks from James Harris and Miller Horton, two old-timers from upBladensburg way, where they know better than anywhere else in Ohio how to grow and teach Democrats that are Democrats, and know why, and can tell you in one minute's notice any time, just why they are Democrats.

The principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Lewis B. Houck, of Mt. Vernon, another Bladensburg product, took the floor and started everybody cheering and kept them on the keen edge of expectancy for a solid hour. Having served in the Ohio senate when Candidate Harding was the presiding officer, he was able to tell how much consideration Democrats were likely to receive at his hands. Mr. Houck closed to catch his train. The leaving of the principal speaker usually breaks up a political meeting, but not last night. A. A. Rector, of State Treasurer Creamer's office, was called on and gave a good talk, showing the importance of every Democrat being in line and voting the whole ticket, and especially for the legislative candidates for the reason that the coming legislature will have to redistrict Ohio under the new census and the new apportionment for congressmen.

Then came Hon. W. E. Haas, mayor of Delaware, and one of our candidates for state senator. In a stirring talk he started everybody cheering. He was followed by Hon. C. W. Miller, our other candidate for state senator, who was just home from a tour of the district and brought the most enthusiastic news from the other counties. He said the Licking county Democracy have no intention of casting any votes for legislative candidates who, after being elected, will vote for the return of Charles W. F. Dick to the United States Senate. They are the same way on every other political proposition that may come before the legislature in accordance with the wishes of the Democratic party.

These meetings have grown in numbers and enthusiasm and this c. p. newspapers mean now by claiming that Republican officials were the first to discover and expose Republican rascals?

If they discovered it why did they keep it so awfully quiet, so that the rascals would never be found out by the people?

If you can remember anything 30 days you will also remember that Denman discovered nothing until Governor Harmon pointed it out to him and told him what to do about it.

And there is a whole lot more that Mr. Denman has not yet done anything about. Probably waiting for Governor Harmon to call his attention to it.

The Postmaster General will be fortunate if he can save as many thousands as the millions that Congress throws out of the window for big ships, the pork barrels and other things.

The revolution in Portugal heralds the birth of a new Republic in Europe. Unless the Kings and Kaisers of Europe form a trust for mutual preservation their thrones before long will be exceedingly shabby.

Since a committee of congress has thoroughly investigated the paper and pulp industry, the Taft Tariff Committee on going through the motions of investigating it again is merely playing with revision of the tariff.

one was closed with a good talk from Prosecutor Phil. B. Smythe that was not one whit behind the other speakers, affirming good suggestions as to when and how to arouse the Democratic voters of the importance of getting out and working and voting, that they may have a share in the great victory that awaits us if we come up to our opportunity.

The meeting was so enthusiastic that the club could not wait two weeks and it was decided to meet every Friday night hereafter until the campaign closes. All Democrats and independent voters are invited to come out next Friday evening and enjoy these meetings with us.

The following resolutions of respect were adopted on the death of Judge E. M. P. Brister:

Whereas, The members of the Licking County Democratic Club and the Democracy of Licking county generally have heard with profound sorrow of the death of our late friend and political associate, Judge E. M. P. Brister; therefore be it

Resolved, That while we bow in submission to this sad dispensation, we would yet recognize that in the death of Judge Brister society has lost one of its best and most useful members; the Democratic party an honored, able and resolute exponent of its principles; the Licking County Democratic Club one of its best members and the world an upright man.

Resolved, That the Licking County Democratic Club tender its deepest sympathies to the bereaved widow and relatives of the deceased in this their dark hour of affliction; that we sorrow in their sorrow and mourn with them the loss of one whom we greatly respected and loved.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the widow of the deceased and also to the papers of the county and city for publication.

Resolutions were also adopted on the death of the late William P. Young, as follows:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to call to himself since the last regular meeting of this club, one of its most faithful members and some time officer William P. Young; and

Whereas, Mr. Young was a good citizen, a loyal friend and a faithful Democrat; be it

Resolved by the Licking County Democratic Club that it is deeply grieved over the death of Mr. Young; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions bespiced on the minutes and a copy sent by the secretary to the family of the deceased, and a copy forwarded to the papers for publication.

H. Follett, J. A. Flory, Roderie Jones, Edward Kibler, Charles Flory, Charles W. Miller, A. A. Stasel and others.

The members of the association will meet in the court room at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and attend the services at the First Presbyterian church.

An Atchison woman who looks for good in everything is glad she married. "It has taught me patience," she said. When a girl she flew into a temper if she had to wait five minutes for something she wanted, but now she waits and waits and waits and says nothing. She waited nine years for her new front porch, six years for her husband to take her to the theater and eleven years for him voluntarily, when there was no company around, to offer her a rocking chair. "This," she said recently to a friend who heard she was sitting up half the night waiting for her husband to come home, "is nothing. I can wait longer and say less about it than any woman who ever lived. I am glad I married; otherwise I could never claim the waiting championship belt."—Atchison Globe.

CHANLER'S BROTHER EXPECTS CHALLENGE

Cobham, Va. Oct. 8.—"I would not be surprised if Prince Dolgorouki would challenge me to a duel as the result of my naming my boar after him," said John Armstrong Chanler, author of the phrase, "Who's looney now?" today, as he opened his mail which contained many letters referring to his latest fling at the participants in the Chanler-Cavalieri affair. "The prince is a brave man and has had experience in the art of dueling, but if he seeks satisfaction from me, he is likely to get it," said Chanler, intimating that he would go to Europe in response to a challenge.

"In such an event I would shoot Dolgorouki in the knee so as to maim him, but under no circumstances would I attempt to kill. As you may know, I am an expert in the use of firearms, and I would have nothing whatever to fear in entering a duel.

"Should the count refrain from seeking personal satisfaction, I may still have the pleasure of feeling that he may go through life with the sting of an unresented insult."

The Parable of the Talents. Matt. xxv: 14-30.

Golden Text. His Lord said unto him, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of my Lord." Matt. xxv: 21.
Verse 14—Who does the "man traveling into a far country represent?"
Who do the "servants" stand for?
What do the "goods" here represent?

Verse 15—What is it which God divides among His servants, represented by "talents?"
What rule does God adopt in giving out his talents? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

What is the evidence which shows that God gives one or more talents to everybody?

Does God give any two men precisely the same gifts, either in kind or quantity? Give your reasons.

How many things are there in nature, mind or matter, precisely alike?

What rule and method does God adopt in giving men differing abilities?

The man in the parable went on a journey and left his servants, all alone, each to be his own master: to what extent does God treat men that way?

Verses 16-17—What do Christians have to do, to be equivalent to a man trading with his money?

About what per cent of new opportunities are developed, when we are faithful to the original opportunities which God places first before us?

Verse 18—If a man with one talent, representing limited opportunities, had used it, what is the reason for believing that he would have doubled his original capital as did the others?

What sin was this man guilty of?

Why do men with one talent, so often bury it as this man did?

Which class of men as a rule, are the more faithful, those with two, or five talents, or those with only one? Give your reasons.

Verse 19—What evidence is there that there will be a reckoning day for every one of us?

How long before or when, will the reckoning day be?

Verses 20-23—What percentage of profit had they made, and which of the two men were deserving of the more praise?

Verses 24-27—How do you account for the fact that those who are unfaithful generally put the blame upon God, that is their "chances," their opportunities, and their lack of ability, etc.?

In what way did this man add insult to injury?

Verses 28-30—Why did God create the law that those who have got more, and the other have not generally lose even that which they have?

Verse 31—What is the natural punishment which comes to men who have neglected their opportunities?

NEW DISCOVERY

Has Put the Good Old Dirty Mustard Plaster Out of Business.

A box of Begy's Mustardine will banish as many aches and pains as forty mustard plasters.

And only 25 cents for a yellow box full that T. J. Evans guarantees to cure headache, earache, toothache, neuralgia and pain in chest or back, or money back.

Just rub on Begy's Mustardine. It's better than a mustard plaster. Kills all pain and does it faster. It isn't sticky or greasy and won't soil your garments.

It drives soreness from throat and chest; stops irritating coughs, reduces swollen joints, and takes out stiffness and lameness.

It's the best all around remedy for all the troublesome aches and pains that are common in every home. It's better than any liniment. Keep a box on hand.

DINNER STORIES

A Scotch laird said to his servant John, who had complained of his temper. "I am sure, John, it is nae suner on than it's off." "Aye," said John; "but laird, it's nae suner off than it's on."

Little Walter was always carefully guarded against germs. The telephone was sprayed, the drinking vessels sterilized, and public conveyances and places were forbidden him.

"Father," he said one night, in a tone of desperation, "do you know what I am going to do when I grow up?"

"What?" asked his father, preparing himself for the worst.
"I'm going to eat a sardine."

Josephine, aged ten, has a decided lisp. She is also very fond of attending the matinee. The other day she was giving a spirited story of the play to Marion, who was aged nine.

"My mamma says it isn't good for little girls to go to the theater," said Marion with an air of self-righteousness. "I'm not ever going till I'm eighteen."

"Humph," retorted Josephine without any hesitation, "th'pose you dis when you're th'venteen, then you'll be th'ing!"

An amusing story about Mr. Roosevelt has just become public after many years. Being the honors at the White House to an English guest, the President recalled the latter with stories of his prowess during the Spanish-American war. Kermit, who had been listening attentively to the monologue, finally broke in with the anxious query:

"Say, popper, couldn't you get anybody to help you lick the Spaniards?"

When the time came for the nomination of a member of a Southern Legislature, the member sauntered down to the corner store one night to sound out the opinion of his townsmen as to whether he should be sent back to the capital of his state as a lawmaker.

"Well, boss," he said to the assembled politicians, "what about it?" There was an embarrassing pause. "Speak right out, fellows," he encouraged the meeting. "To tell the truth, Sam," said one of the crowd, "we've decided that judging from what this hynh county got out of the Legislature while you were there, we mought as well take with a letter."

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Two Sour Grapes Stories

"They Are Sour Grapes, Anyway"

JACK had heard one day some one use the expression, "Sour grapes" and he did not understand it, so that evening he asked daddy to tell him a story about what people meant when they said "sour grapes."

"Once upon a time," said daddy, "there was a fox which was very fond of grapes. He would eat them whenever he had a chance. One day as he was running along a country road he noticed some grapes growing on a high wall just above his head. They looked fine, and Mr. Fox thought they would taste as well as they looked; but, try as hard as he could, he could not jump up high enough to reach the grapes. They were just beyond his reach."

"After trying several times without success to reach the fruit he sat down and said: 'Well, I don't care. They are sour grapes anyway.' So now when some one tries hard to get a thing and cannot have it and then says that the thing is not worth having anyway people always mention 'sour grapes.' It has become one of the best known sayings in the world, both in English and in the languages of other countries."

"There was a man in the south once who caught a fine fat rabbit in a trap. He took him out alive and held him in his arms while he thought what a fine supper the rabbit would make."

"'Let me see,' he said to himself—'how shall I have this nice, fine fat rabbit cooked? Shall I have him broiled or fried or made into a stew?' All the time, of course, he was holding the little animal very tightly in his arms, so that the poor bunny was almost smothered and could not get away."

"'I think I'll have him fried,' said the man. 'He's so fat and tender that he'll fry himself. But, no—I think he will taste better broiled. No, that will not do. He's so fat that he will lose all his grease. I think, after all, the best way is to have him made into a stew.'"

"And when he thought how fine the stew would taste with potatoes and herbs and other things he quite forgot that he had to hold the bunny fast and spread out his arms as he said: 'Oh, my, yes! Rabbit stew will be just the thing for supper.'"

"But the rabbit did not think so. As soon as the man spread his arms he gave a jump, landed on the ground and was many feet away before the man knew what he was about. Then the rabbit sat down on the ground and looked at the man as though he wanted to say, 'Well, I guess you won't have rabbit stew for supper.'"

"But the man made believe he did not care. He looked at the rabbit, shook his fist at him and said: 'You long eared, white whiskered rascal! You aren't so very fat, anyway!'" ernment of the republic that the departure of the royal family from Portugal was carried out without any untoward incidents. It is said also that military and civil adhesions to the republic were constantly increasing. When the Duke of Oporto embarked in the royal yacht at Cascaes, he

"I am a Portuguese and hope to die in Portugal."

The only remark attributed to the mother queen, Amelia, was simply "au revoir." This was addressed to a lady in waiting.

The Capital a republican newspaper, gives the following description of the flight of the royal family:

"Between 5 and 8 o'clock Wednesday morning the Duke of Oporto embarked on the yacht Amelia and sailed for Ericeira, a fishing town on the Atlantic coast 22 miles northwest of Lisbon. At the same time the Queen Mother Amelia left Cintra by automobile for Mafra. She was followed an hour later by the Dowager Queen Maria Pia. King Manuel, after escaping by a rear door of the palace during the bombardment, went to Cintra and thence to Mafra. At 10 o'clock the royal yacht arrived at Ericeira. In the meantime the royal family had completed the preparations for flight, and escorted by 20 horsemen from the Mafra Cavalry School, proceeded to Ericeira. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon they embarked on fishing boats, accompanied by two attendants and two ladies of their court and carrying their personal baggage. The fishing boats put out to sea and at some distance from the harbor transferred their royal passengers to the yacht Amelia.

According to one person, who said he witnessed the embarkation of the royal family, the Duke of Oporto boarded the royal yacht at Cascaes weeping, and said he wanted to leave his beloved country in deep pain.

He complained that the downfall of the monarchy was due wholly to the fatal influence of his sister-in-law, the queen mother, and added that he had found it impossible to give his nephew, the king, liberal counsels.

The narrator said that when King Manuel and his mother boarded the yacht the king was plainly glad at having escaped. Before leaving he shook hands with the fisher folk and appeared to be moved by their devotion. The queen mother, however, was described as being in a state of fury. According to this observer, she actually gnashed her teeth and threatened vengeance on the revolutionists when the royal family returned to the throne.

Dr. Jose Maria de Almoin, chief of the "Progressive Dissidents" and former minister of justice and warship, has joined the republican movement and his own party has been dissolved.

President-elect Poesco of Brazil, who was a guest of King Manuel when the revolution broke out, sailed for Rio Janeiro on the Brazilian battleship Sao Paulo today. The Brazilian cruiser Barroso has arrived here.

The casualties in the recent fighting are estimated at 3000. Three regiments of infantry have arrived from the provinces and joined the revolutionary party.

MONKS REPORTED KILLED.

Lisbon, Oct. 8.—A bitter fight in which several monks are reported killed occurred today when a party of revolutionists were fired on by the Quelhos monastery.

Artillery came to the aid of the revolutionists and returned the monastery's fire. The artillery bombarded for two hours, when the monks surrendered. About a score were injured on both sides.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances it can't help it. This treatment cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

ROOSEVELT

Will Hold Receptions Today at Atlanta, Take Dinner With the Mayor and Deliver Speech.

Rome Ga., Oct. 8.—Welcomed by the shrill rebel yell, Roosevelt today is marching through Georgia on a train. Little groups cheered him at every station, even before dawn. His throat prohibits much speaking. He says he is now in his home country. His mother was a Bullock of Western Georgia and the whole Roosevelt family is well known hereabouts.

This afternoon will be spent at Atlanta, where he has several receptions, dinner with the mayor and an address to the Uncle Remus Memorial Association.

ROOSEVELT PRAISED SCHOOL.

Rome Ga., Oct. 8.—Gifford Pinchot was waiting for Roosevelt today when the latter's train pulled in. Today they inspected the school for destitute white children and the colonel praised the institution in a short talk to teachers and pupils.

COMMUNICATED

Editor Advocate:—Why do the campaign orators of both parties spend so much precious time this year hurling charges and counter charges of graft at one another? Of course we the people believe pretty much everything they have told us, but we can not believe them more than once. So what's the use of so "damnable iteration" in our ears? Aren't these eloquent gentlemen afraid the people will become so tired of this sort of thing that they will organize a new party before election day and pitch them all into the depths of the sea in one promiscuous mass of confusion worth confounded?

M. R. SCOTT.

WEDS NURSE WHO SAVED HIM.

Canton, Oct. 8.—Joseph F. Banty, an Elgin, Ill., business man, yesterday married Miss Lillian Lasal of Canton, who helped save his life. Banty was seriously ill a year ago from typhoid fever in a hospital, and Miss Lasal nursed him back to health.

WANT INDICTMENTS QUASHED.

Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—Frank N. Hoffstedt and Max G. Leslie, recently indicted in connection with the graft investigation here today filed petitions asking that their indictments be quashed on the same grounds contained in the petitions filed yesterday.

NOTED CHURCHMEN TO PREACH.

Cincinnati, Oct. 8.—An amendment to the constitution regarding the preamble occupied the attention of the Episcopal congress here today. Every Episcopal pulpit in the city will be occupied by some noted churchman tomorrow.

ENDS STOMACH TROUBLE AND INDIGESTION

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or catarrh of stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is food fermentation—food souring; the digestive organs become weak there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs sleeplessness, belching of gas, sick headaches, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a question of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

ATHLETIC MONEY GOES BEGGING

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The National league fans of Chicago are supremely confident that the Cubs will win the world's series from the Philadelphia Athletics, but they are not betting on it. This was evident today when a dozen different reports showed that there were big bunches of Athletic money going begging.

Eastern money is pouring in here, but few of the bets have been taken and the local American league followers said they could not place their own coin, let alone putting up that of the eastern fans. One bet of $1000 to $1400 with the Athletics at the short end was recorded, but the Cubs are believed to be waiting for even money.

Just By the Way

By TED ROBINSON

The Philosopher of Folly. Literal. "It's probable that the reason sparrows increase faster than other birds," says the Philosopher of Folly, "is that their feathers aren't pretty enough for nat trimming."

Too Good. Pame a la Tom Hood. Tom Thompson's face was just as tough as years of vice could make it; I found that fact out, soon enough. The day I tried to break it.

He turned to me, with angry frown, And knocked me on the head; I thought "no fee by lying down, But was 'laid up.'" Instead.

My doctor can't tell "it" from "it." And now I'm feeling worse. He came to take my pulse, and—well, He came and took my pulse!

And in the hospital I lie. My tired members resting; I'm forced to diet—if I die At least I will die festing!

Complimentary. Marmie—What was that story Mame whispered to you? Grayce—Oh, dearie, it was absolutely unfit to repeat to a decent person. I wouldn't repeat it to anybody in the world but you. Listen—

Reno Relatives. "You say you're a cousin of Mr. Johnson's?" "Yes—seven times removed." "Goodness! How do you keep track of that?" "Easily. My fourth husband married his third wife."

Just About. History Teacher—How did Ethel Allen demand the surrender of Ticonderoga? Pupils—"In the name of Jehovah and the Continental Congress." But—Teacher—Well, what is it? Pupils—That's about the last time the Lord and Congress ever appeared in partnership, wasn't it?

One or Tether. "Why did you fire your stenographer?" "Well, I had to fire somebody, and my wife refused to quit."

What is Left. Shall I know, when mine eyes Close, at length, on the skies— On the things of this earth— Shall I know of the worth Of the things that I prize?

Does man find, when he dies, That his knowledge is less? What makes sorrow and mirth, Shall I know?

How of Love? As life flies, Shall I laugh at its sighs? Shall my spirit's new birth Bid me welcome its death? Shall it leave me? (Love cries "Shall I? No!")

Frankly. "What happens in the fifth act of your play?" "A terrible fight between the hero and the villain."

"Who gets the worst of it?" "The audience."
